Patenting Trends Calendar Year 1999

In calendar year 1999, the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office granted a record 169,154 patent documents, including 153,493 utility, 14,732 design, 421 plant, and 448 reissue patents, and 60 statutory invention registrations. Annual grants for all patents increased by 3.6 percent over the total for calendar year 1998 (163,208 grants in 1998). Utility patent grants (patents for invention) in 1999 represent a 4 percent increase over the total for 1998 (147,520).

In 1999, the share of all patents that were issued to U.S.-resident inventors was 55.6 percent, unchanged from the U.S. share for 1998. California resident inventors claimed a 20.0 percent share (18,865 patents) of these U.S.-resident inventor patents, followed by resident inventors from New York (7.3 percent, 6,900 patents), Texas (6.8 percent, 6,424 patents), New Jersey (4.6 percent, 4,372 patents), and Illinois (4.6 percent, 4,308 patents). U.S. resident-inventors of the following areas had the largest percentage increases in patent receipts from 1998 to 1999: Puerto Rico, Idaho, South Dakota, Kentucky, Arkansas, Kansas, and Wyoming.

There were 20,543 patents granted to U.S. independent inventors in 1999, slightly fewer than the 1998 count of U.S. independent inventor patents (20,765). The U.S. independent inventor patent share of all patents issued to U.S.-resident inventors in 1999 was 21.8 percent, down from a 22.9 percent share in 1998.

Foreign-resident inventors claimed a 44.4 percent share of all U.S. patents issued in 1999. The share of U.S. patents that were issued to Japan-resident inventors in calendar year 1999 was 19.2 percent, down from 19.7 percent in 1998. The 1999 share of U.S. patents that were issued to Germany-resident inventors remained at 5.9 percent.

In 1999, Taiwan moved ahead of France into third position among foreign countries whose residents patented in the United States. South Korea moved into sixth place, edging ahead of Canada. Countries with the largest percentage increases in annual patent receipts in 1999, as compared to 1998, include Ireland, Austria, Mexico, India, Taiwan, Denmark, Sweden, People's Republic of China, Singapore, and Brazil.

The eleven foreign countries that received the most U.S. patents during calendar year 1999 are displayed below. Also included below is a table that lists states and countries and their percentage change in patenting from 1998 to 1999.
